

To Dane County Community Members:

Significant hazards that have impacted Dane County in the recent past include tornadoes, record snowfalls, and flooding. These events have had disastrous effects on individuals, businesses, and communities in Wisconsin.

These hazards bring to light the need to be prepared for a wide variety of unforeseen circumstances. The Public Private Partnership of Dane County serves to support development of strategies that improve Dane County's Public, Private, and Non-Profit organization's response to these hazards. The partnership has workshops planned to share a variety of tools, resources, and ideas that can help each of us be better prepared.

The Partnership's first workshop is Workplace Preparations for H1N1 on Wednesday October 21, 2009 from 1-3:30pm. With the continued outbreak of the H1N1 virus and the dire predictions for the upcoming flu season, it is important for you to have relevant facts and information to develop plans that will keep your organization open and functioning.

Because the Partnership understands your time is at a premium, the workshops are designed to be concise and informative. The Partnership's goal is to provide you with information that will give you a basic foundation for developing planning strategies and connect you with a network of professionals that can work with you to build on that foundation.

Please email your name, the name of your organization, and your telephone number to Steve Lipshetz of Alliant Energy at: stevelipshetz@alliantenergy.com

Who should attend?

- Private Sector: Leaders from small, medium and large businesses, executives and operational personnel from security, safety, environmental health services, risk management, business continuity, human resources, fleet management, facilities, and health.
- Public Sector: Decision-makers and operational personnel from police, fire, emergency management, public works, transportation, public health, continuity of operations, and government executives.
- Non-Profit Sector: Organizational leaders and coordinators for service provision.

We hope that you will consider spending the afternoon with us and that you will give added thought to continuing with the partnership in order to provide valuable input and planning. We welcome diverse thoughts and ideas that will allow us to develop and implement planning techniques that will aid everyone during an incident response.

Thank you for your time and consideration,

THE LEADERSHIP AND STEERING COMMITTEE

P.S. We apologize if you have received this notice more than once. We are working from multiple email lists. The Partnership is developing a new, accurate distribution list from your workshop registration. After the second workshop, we will be operating with a new distribution list. Thank you for your understanding and cooperation.
